McADOO SIGNS UP MAYOR.

Leads With "Big Bill" Until
Public Library Reviewing Stand Is Reached.

Leaders of the past and present in the world of sport marched with the leaders of the future in a wonderful athletic parade yesterday to boost the Boy Scout drive for 1,000,000 associate members.

More than 500 athletes—"pro," "ex" and amateur—and 9,000 Scouts in uniform, led by William H. Edwards, chairman of the local citizens' committee, who as "Big Bill" Edwards led the Princeton football team to victory in 1900—and William G. McAdoo, chairman of the national committee, filed up Fifth avenue from Washington Square to Fifty-ninth street.

Mayor Hylan reviewed the parade from in front of the Public Library. As the long column swung past the reviewing stand, marching with precision, the Mayor grew more and more enthusiastic until finally, unable to "restrain that impulse," he turned to Scout Chairman McAdoo, who had joined him on the stand, and dug for his bank roll. Mr. McAdoo immediately produced a membership blank and showed Mayor Hylan where to sign on the dotted line, duly enrolling him as an associate Boy Scout.

Brig.-Gen. Dyer Is Marshal.

Brig.-Gen. Dyer is Marshal. He is Grand Marshal, with Major George A. Daley as chief of parade. Following the platoon of mounted police came Mr. McAdoo, bearing an American flag and Mr. Edwards, carrying the orange and black banner of Princeton. On either side marched four diminutive Scouts and two bicycle Scouts. Next came the Citizens' committee with Martin Vogel, Secretary, and Emerson, vice-president of the National Bank of Commerce and former Dock Commissioner R. M. Smith.

The Police Band and fifty Boy Scouts with American flags followed. Next came Miller Huggins and Hughey Jennings, leading the New York Yankees, and the Detroit Tigers with Ty Cobb, "Home Run" Baker, Bobby Veatch and all the other baseball favorites in line. Among the old "pros" were John D. In and Johnny Ward, due to the memory of all giant fans; Keene Fitzpatrick, Princeton's athletic trainer and his sidekick Bill Clark; Red Evers, manager of the Boston Braves; and "Dutch" Carter of Yale and many others including Foster Sanford, Walter Camp, Willis Terry, Eugene Richards, "Doc" Haganway, "Bummy" Booth, "Shack" Homans, Jack Gates, Ted Coy, Charley Brinkley, Brink Thorn, Billy Ford and Bill Smith.

They were followed by George Landon, Howard Amell, Walter Cowley, Elmer E. Thompson, Rosa and Steve McClave, Dave Fuls, Donald McFadden, Harold Scott, Harry Kersberg, Col. Reed Klontz, Ford, "Shack" Homans, Jack Gates, Ted Coy, Charley Brinkley, Brink Thorn, Billy Ford and Bill Smith.

In addition to floats portraying every branch of sport there were three army floats and an army airplane, drawn by Scouts and accompanied by its pilot, Sergeant Arthur S. Turner.

Big Subscriptions Lag.

Subscriptions to the $1,000,000 fund to be raised in this city are below the mark set for the fourth day of the drive, A. B. Leach, chairman of the Manhattan Campaign Committee, said yesterday. This is due to the falling off of larger subscriptions, Mr. Leach said. There has been no lack of response to the drive for 11 adult members, and it is expected that the city will exceed its membership quota of 25,000. This holds true for the whole United States, according to reports at National Scout Headquarters.

A $100 Liberty bond autographed by the late Theodore Roosevelt was sent to the scout committee yesterday by Colgate Hoyt, 14 Wall street, to be auctioned off for the fund. Lieut.-Col. Roosevelt paid a tribute to the Boy Scouts in a message read yesterday, urging all patriotic citizens to give the movement every support in their power. The programme for to-day includes a noon rally on the Sub-Treasury steps, a Rotary Club luncheon at 12:30 at the Hotel McAlpin, team captains' luncheon in the Bankers' Club at 1 o'clock, meetings from 12 to 2 at the Pennsylvania Hotel, Grand Central terminal, Public Library, Madison Square and Union Square and evening outdoor meetings at Longacre Square, Ninety-sixth street and Broadway, 125th street and Seventh avenue, 131st street and St. Nicholas avenue and Columbus Circle.

Those who have grown nervous about the religion of Alice Hall, eccentric spinster of "Take It From Me" at the Central Theatre, are hereby calmed down with the word that she's a Christian Scientist.

Frances Fritchard has introduced into the Morris Gert "Midnight Whirl" in the Century Grove, a new song, "Be Yourself," by Jean Schwartz, describing a chorus girl who strives to be happy by using the latest Broadway slang.

The hitting of the censorship reveals the fact that Elsie Janis contemplates returning to France this summer and has asked Charles Dillingham for the Parisian rights of "She's a Good Fellow" as ballad for her trip overseas.

About fifty actors and actresses from the Actors' Home on Staten Island attended the matinee of "Three Wise Fools" at the Criterion Theatre yesterday, as the guests of Winchell Smith and John L. Golden, and were reminded somehow of Booth and Barrett.

A. and assisted in selecting entertainments for the various camps, frequently taking part in the shows herself.

RACHEL CROTHERS
TO INVADE LONDON

"A Little Journey" and "39 East" Will Be Produced in Capital.

WOODS BUYS TWO PLAYS

"The Merry Widow" Will Be Heard Again, This Time in Spanish.

Rachel Crothers, already known here as one of the most fluent of playwrights, is to have an opportunity to impress London with her indefatigable pen, for both "A Little Journey" and "39 East" are to become features in the British metropolis in the fall, along with the roast beef of old England. Miss Crothers will stage the English productions, unless a new idea for a play happens to cross her path. Cyril Keightley and Ethel Dane, the principal players of "A Little Journey," are scheduled to transigrate with it overseas.

A. H. Woods, having still some money left despite the hamper of plays he bought in Europe, has just added to his joblot a new play by S. J. Kaufman and Tom Barry, which will be titled as soon as Sam Hoffenstein of the Woods propaganda bureau can think of a new and gorgeous word for it.

After all, "The Greenwich Village Politician" was a standard collection of "politic" amusements annually by Ziegfeld, Jr., into the Hall of Fame. The "Ziegfeld Politician" will be produced on Monday next, while it is now announced that instead of having its premiere before that date, the Greenwich brand of theatrical excesses won't become epidemic at the Greenwich Village Theatre until three days later, so that Mr. Ziegfeld is now assured of first call on the reviewers' adjectives. It transpires that Philip Bartholomew, who has been getting along without the theatre for some time, will fly back at it with the book for the Greenwich show, which he took out of his own system.

"The Merry Widow" Smiles Again. "The Merry Widow" having been done to a turn in German, French, English, Broadway and on the phonograph, is to be presented at the Cort Theatre beginning Monday next in Spanish, thus qualifying it for the concert of nations. It will be presented by the Spanish Theatre, which is under the management of Adelina Vehl, Isabel Mariquet, Manuel Noriega and the same organization that appeared at the Park Theatre in April—except the orchestra.

It is announced that St. John G. E. Irish, Irish novelist and playwright, who took his pen in hand for "John Ferguson" at the Grand Theatre, will visit this country in the fall for an extensive concert tour, though, in the absence of exact information as to the nature of his performance, it would be unfair to assume that he will be a success. His play has received sympathy from so many persons that instead of terminating its life this week, as planned earlier, it will be carried on by the Theatre Guild will trundle it out again for a month prior to its regular season in November.

Cahan & Harris, taking their courage and their check book in their hands, have just notified the 125 members of the Broadway Theatre Guild that the birthdays of any of them that occur during the summer run will be solemnized by an after performance supper at the home of the Guild for the Theatre—but anyone will be penalized for having more than one birthday.

"The Better 'Ole' to Move. As "The Better 'Ole' on Monday next will sidestep the Cort Theatre in favor of the Booth, the Coburns and Winthrop Ames have found it necessary to install a special telephone service between the two houses to preserve their liaison with the advance reservations, but have decided not to use carrier pigeons.

Frank G. Hall, president of the Independent Sales Corporation, has obtained control of the United States and Canadian rights to the movie production showing Jess Willard accepting "The Challenge of Chance" without delecting over terms. This photograph of the champion in the garment of a Western hero is to be presented in a few days at a Broadway house, so that New York may see Willard cleaning up before Toledo does.

Another important engagement which marks a distinct step upward in the history of the motion picture is announced for the Broadway Theatre, when Mack Sennett, the first to discover the inherent talents of a custard pie, will present with Sol L. Lesser seven of his sizzling beauties, hardened by exposure to California sunshine. They will appear in person and on the screen in a production called "Xanex Doodle in Berlin," which is as far as the plot goes.

PASTOR'S $75,000 SUIT OPENS. The Rev. J. H. Mellich Fell Through "L" Mails.

Trial was begun yesterday before Supreme Court Justice Kappeler and a jury in Brooklyn of the suit for $75,000 damages commenced by the Rev. John Howard Mellich, pastor of the Holy Trinity Church at Montauk and Clifton, against the New York Consolidated Railroad Company.

Mr. Mellich asserts he was severely injured June 14, 1917, at the East River station of the Myrtle avenue elevated line. He was ascending the stairs and fell through a large hole in the street. Regains were believed on the stairs. Dr. Mellich says he was laid up for more than four months. The trial is being continued.

ROCHESTER FILLS COMMUNITY CHEST

City Raises $1,251,000 in Week for Relief Work.

Special Despatch to The Sun. ROCHESTER, June 11.—Following a campaign of one week Rochester has filled its community chest by raising $1,251,000 in large and small subscriptions from the citizens. This chest is planned to take care of all the city's charities and the rehabilitation of returned soldiers for one year from date. Rochester claims it is the first city in the United States with a community chest which is modeled after the war chest. The latter was planned in 1918 to take care of all war contributions and charities. According to the plan adopted in Rochester citizens contribute weekly and monthly. The largest subscription was $200,000, given by George Eastman.

By making this one appeal the city renders it unnecessary to ask financial aid from any individuals or organizations again during the year. There was a liberal response from wage earners as well as salaried people and those of means. Wage earners were asked to give one day's pay. The chest is conducted without expense to the community through donations.

$500,000 FOR VASSAR ASSURED. Executor of Mrs. Sage's Will Confirms Announcement.

Robert W. de Forest, one of the executors of the will of the late Mrs. Russell Sage and vice-president of the Sage Foundation, confirmed yesterday the announcement made on Tuesday by Dr. Henry N. MacCracken, president of Vassar College, that the institution probably would receive at least $500,000 as its share of the residuary estate left by Mrs. Sage.

Mrs. Sage died November 4 last, leaving an estate then valued at approximately $5,000,000. The estate value is not and will not be known for about a year, according to Mr. de Forest. A dozen bequests were made to relatives and thirty-one specific bequests to charity. The remainder of the estate was divided into fifty-two parts and apportioned among thirty-two institutions.
